From the National Intelligencer of Tuesday.

A more brilliant spectacle never has been witnessed in the city of Washington, than that exhibited yesterday on the occasion of the visit of the Brigade of Volunteers from Baltimore to this city for the purpose of honoring, at the Capitol of their country, the Anniversary of the Battle of North Point, fought by Volunteers and Militia in defence of the city of Baltimore from invasion, two-and-twenty years ago.

The day was bright and hazy, and the city and neighboring towns poured out almost their whole population to greet and admire the strangers, whose splendid appearance exceeded all anticipation. We have indeed seen many public spectacles in our day, but never so brilliant and impressive as yesterday afforded us.

The arrival of the trains of the cars alone, transporting, by the aid of several locomotives, so many hundreds of troops, (eighteen companies,) the elite of the citizen soldiery of the Monumental City, witnessed as it was from the brow of the Capitol Hill by thousands upon thousands of men, women, and children, was one of the grandest sights one could desire to look upon. Add to this the effect of the federal salute from the Hill, by which the visitors were welcomed, the showy marshalling of the troops at the base of the hill, and the march of the glittering column up North Capitol street into the space in front of the Capitol, (where the volunteers of our city and Georgetown, with a company of Baltimore cavalry, joined them,) and we can safely say that a more impressive scene is seldom witnessed, in either our civil or our military exhibitions, in any part of this country.

At the Capitol, the troops were reviewed by the Commanding General of the Army of the United States. After which review, &c. of all which a more particular account may be hereafter expected, the visitors were entertained with a collation provided for the occasion at Carusi's Saloons.

Mexico.—By the arrival of the schr. Lady Hope, in seven days from Tampico, we learn that the Mexican republic is in a frightfully convulsed state. The intelligence received at Tampico previous to the sailing of the schr. was of the most painful nature, plotting, treachery and strife being the order of the day, party pitted against party, all in open hostility throughout the distracted land. No battle of note, since that of Elila, has been fought, in which it will be remembered, the Constitutionalists were worsted; they are not, it appears, dispirited or broken by their defeat—on the contrary, they are encouraged by the accession of numbers to their ranks, and the rapid extension of their principles. If this is correct, the overthrow of the present government is the likely result, but it will not be effected without much destruction of life.

The troops at Tampico are drilled by the new commandant, Pasa, and amount to 1,000 men. Capt. Williams, of the Lady Hope, speaks highly of Pasa, and states that he is a most gentlemanly and humane man, giving all possible protection to foreigners resident at Tampico, and suppressing all attempts at insubordination. His active and energetic measures were productive of much good. The destination of the troops under his command was not known.—N. Orleans Bee.

We published the other day an account of the murder of Mr. Brax, in New Orleans, who was shot down in the street by Mr. Giquel. The New Orleans papers contain the evidence given before the judge of the municipality, upon the application of Mr. Giquel, to be admitted to bail. It appears that Brax had provided himself with a cowskin, which was found upon the body, intending to inflict personal chastisement on Mr. Giquel, and that when they met in Royal street, he ran forward and struck the latter, or seized him by the arm, at the same time thrusting his hand into his own bosom to draw out the cowskin. It was proved also, that at their first meeting, Giquel had dared Brax to strike him, being then provided with his pistols, which he had brought that morning.

The judge refused to admit Giquel to bail, and he was accordingly placed in the custody of the sheriff.

Capt. Bishop, with only eight men, in the up Country, Georgia, surprised a large camp of Indians on the 17th ult., and took seventy prisoners—the next day a large party was sent out and captured seventy-one more.

A letter from Florida says that Madison county is in the possession of the Indians, a party of whom had penetrated within twenty miles of Tallahassee and stolen six horses from the plantation of John Gamble, Esq. Powell, it is reported, is ready to take the field at the head of five thousand savages—the Tennessee troops have declined going into Florida, in consequence of which it will be necessary to apply to government for an additional force. The letter-writer says moreover, that at no time have there been as great fear as at present for the safety of the territory.

U. S. Ship John Adams.—We have been favored with the sight of a letter from an officer on board this ship, dated Palermo, July 15, 1836, in which the officers and crew are stated to be in fine health and spirits. While the ship was refitting in Mahon during the greater part of May, a tragic scene occurred, which, for a season, cast a gloom over all. While the sailors were on shore to refresh themselves, one of the men from some unknown cause, was induced to murder another while he lay sleeping. He effected his purpose by hammering his head with a heavy stone. In the end the idea of having murdered a fellow creature acted so powerfully upon him that he could obtain no rest until he had disclosed his awful secret. He was immediately confined, and an officer was afterwards despatched under the personal guidance of the murderer to find the dead body, which was done by the wretch without the slightest sign of remorse. He was tried by a Court Martial, and was hanged on the first day of July from the fore yard of the John Adams, in the presence of the whole squadron.

The ship remained a short time at Toulon, and thence sailed for Genoa, which was reached in 24 hours; remained a week at Genoa, and sailed for Leghorn, thence to Civita Vecchia and Naples. The John Adams was to leave in a few days after the date of the letter on a cruise towards the Adriatic and the Syrian coast.—Norfolk Beacon.

Fire.—On Wednesday morning about a quarter past 3 o'clock, a fire broke out in the store-house of the distillery of Mr. Charles Davis, in Davis street, Roxbury, and at the same time from a small stable contiguous, which with their contents were speedily consumed. In the stable three valuable horses perished. The buildings were insured at the Boylston Office in this city, valued at about $1500; the stock in the store-house at the Ocean, valued 4 or $500.—The stock in the distillery, which was insured at the Ocean and Freeman's, sustained a loss of only about $100. The loss in all is estimated at $2500.

The cause of the fire is generally attributed to an incendiary.—Daily.

Reminiscence.—The township of Dartmouth, Westport, New Bedford, Freetown, and Fairhaven, composing one tract, were purchased by Gov. Bradford and his associates, in 1654, at Hassamquinn and Hassamutta, his son, for the following considerations:—30 yards of cloth, 8 musk skins, 10 axes, 15 knives, 15 pair of breeches, 8 blankets, 2 kettles, 1 clock, 2 pounds of wampum, 8 pair of stockings, 8 pair of shoes, 1 iron pot, and ten shillings in other commodities.

An aged Printer.—In Hartford, Conn., there is a printer named George Goodwin, who is the oldest printer in America. He is in his 80th year—beardy, hale and sprightly. He was setting types for the Connecticut Courant more than seventy years ago, and is doing the same now. He loves his profession and calculates to be a practical printer for many years to come.

The Missouri river has been in fine navigable order, ever since early in the spring. It continues unusually high.

MAINE ELECTION.

The Portland Argus of Tuesday says—

"We have heard from all the towns in this Congressional District, and if our returns are correct, we have a majority for Representative to Congress; but the vote is so close, that we wait to get exact returns, before giving them in detail.

We have letters, giving the vote for Governor in Kennebec County, 27 towns, giving Dunlap, 3080, Kent, 3980. No choice in Gardiner, Waterville and New Portland. Two Democrats elected in Augusta."

The Augusta Age of September 14, says—the Democrats of Augusta have at length carried their Representative ticket—and that too, against a well-organized opposition, with the whole influence of town officers and own patronage to contend with, and with much the largest aggregate vote ever thrown in this town. The triumph is decisive and complete. We have no disposition to exult over a fallen foe. The reflection that they owe their defeat to their own acts and to a growing dissatisfaction with their party tactics and management of town affairs, superadded to the chagrin, which always accompanies an unexpected defeat, is a sufficient infliction. We would not add to its poignancy if we could.

The Bangor Advertiser of Tuesday says—"The Election in this city went off quietly—there was no exertion made by our party, and, as the result shows, we are beaten by about two hundred. The majority is not quite so large as at the Spring Election, and at the great contrast of '32 the Whigs led us three hundred."

Nineteen towns in Penobscot county give Dunlap 3028—Kent 2300.

The Legislature will be about the same as last year.—Evans, Federal, is re-elected to Congress from Kennebec—it is possible that there have been no elections in Penobscot, Hancock, and Waldo Congressional Districts, owing to divisions among the Democrats; yet the poor Feds are left far, far behind—they stand no chance in any of these districts in any emergency.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Ohio, dated Aug. 23d, 1836, to his brother in Massachusetts—

"I thank you kindly for the noble Orations delivered on the glorious 4th of July, and other papers which you have been so kind as to send me recently. They are the products of strong and correct minds. May their principles control the approaching elections, and old Massachusetts become once more united with her sisters in pure Democracy, civil freedom, unerring truth, and uncorrupted justice.

"The Address in Faneuil Hall, by Mr. Henshaw, is full of talent, luminous, and incontrovertible,—my native State was a great blessing to the old Colonies, may she soon return to her first love, and forget Joseph's no more."

Three Thousand Dollars Lost.—Mr H. E. Brewster, of this city, lost on board the steamer Providence on Monday night, $3334 in bank bills, checks and drafts. The pocket of the pantaloon containing the package, was securely buttoned, (says the New York Times), and in order to afford greater safety, and prevent the paper working out, Mr Brewster took the precaution to pin the pocket at the side. When he awoke in the morning he found the pin in the place where he had put it, and the pocket buttoned as before, but the paper, and contents, were gone.

An alarm was given, and the steambot on her arrival kept out in the stream till a search could take place. Notice was given at the Police Office, when officers Waldron, Sparks and Homer, went on board, and for two hours and a half searched the passengers, crew, baggage, &c., but without success, and it is feared that the robber, whoever he may be, when he found detection probable, threw the package overboard. Such, however, may not have been the case, and a reward of $500 has been offered.

Fatal Affray.—Some dispute having arisen between a hod carrier named McCraigan, and a man named Brennan, in New York, on Tuesday, while upon a narrow staging 75 feet from the ground, Brennan took up a plum board and made a pass at McCraigan, when the latter struck him with a brick bat and knocked him off the building, the poor fellow falling a distance of about 75 feet into the adjoining cellar. He fell on some bricks, broke his neck, and it is said almost every bone in his body. He died immediately. Had he struck McCraigan with the plum board, the casualty would perhaps have been the other way.

The Federal Convention at Worcester, on Wednesday last, nominated the following gentlemen as candidates for electors:—

At large.—Hon. Nathaniel Silsby, of Salem—Hon. Edward A. Newton, of Pittsfield.

Districts.—No. 1, Samuel Appleton—2, Leverett Saltonstall, Salem—3, Benjamin Walker, Lowell—4, Loumm Baldwin, Charlestown—5, Joseph G. Kendall, Worcester—6, Samuel Lee, Barre—7, Thomas Longley, Hawley—8, Isaac C. Bates, Northampton—9, Bzalel Taft, Jr. Uxbridge—10, Howard Lothrop, Easton—11, Charles W. Morgan, New Bedford—12, Charles J. Holmes, Rochester.

A Failure.—Lanuit met with a complete failure in his attempt to ascend in his balloon, at Rochester, N. Y. last Thursday. He states that it was owing "to a lack of materials for generating gas, that he was unable to inflate his balloon." The destruction of his balloon was attempted, but owing to the timely interference of the city authorities the design was frustrated.

A Remedy for the Toothache.—A Portland doctor announces, as the latest remedy for toothache, that the mouth must be filled with cream, and then you are to bump your head against a wall till it turns to butter.

The New Yorkers say that the Texian armed vessels in that port ought to be seized as pirates: as no such power as Texas is recognized by our government, her vessels have no right to go armed.

Military.—At a meeting of the Polish Guards, on Wednesday evening, Lieut. Josiah Dunham, Jr., was unanimously elected Captain; Ensign John P. Caldwell, Lieutenant; and Thomas Hammond, Jr., Ensign.

The Boston Advocate says that the marvellous story published about an attack upon Mrs. Dillon, in Kingston, is a hoax. It was only an attempt of some mischievous fellows to frighten her.

A gentleman caught from the Thames in one day, with the same hook, ten different sorts of fish—barbel, roach, dace, minnow, perch, pike, gudgeon, bleak, eel and flounder!

Buying a Duchy.—The reigning Duke of Brunswick is trying to buy out the rights of his elder brother, whom the people drove from power.

The New York Sun says that there were three hundred Bostonians at the Bowery to witness Miss Cushman's debut. The papers all speak in the highest terms of her unqualified success.

The Leather and Shoe store of Mr. Benjamin Dowd & Son, in Seabrook, Conn., was destroyed on the 5th inst. Loss $5000.

The Charleston, S. C. board of health reported 23 cases of Cholera on the 6th inst. Gen. Hayne has been elected Intendant of the city.

POLICE COURT.

Profanity and violations of the Sabbath.—A couple of lads were brought up on the complaint of the City Marshal. They were accused of "being severely dangerous and disorderly persons," and "with uttering loud outcries, and profane exclamations in the street." This is the first accusation for profanity that has been prosecuted in the city, under the Revised Statutes. It is to be hoped, that it will be followed up, as this odious and vulgar vice is prevalent among the rising generation to an incalculable extent. They both pleaded guilty. They had been in the habit of standing at "Streeter's corner," at North Bennett street, with some twenty others, cursing and swearing, and insulting ladies and gentlemen on the Sabbath. Both were fined $10.00, and costs, and ordered to give bonds to keep the peace for the next six months.—After the trial, the oldest culprit said to Constable Ellis—"I know I'm a—rascal, but I can't help it."

This is carrying the doctrine of "predestination" into practical operation. While this theory slept in the torpid tomes of the theologians of by-gone centuries, it was a perfectly harmless "invention of the enemy" to all moral effort and good; but it has recently been re-animated and brought out anew under the guise of Phrenology.

N. B.—We wish Mr. Marshal would extend his "army of observation" further south on Sundays, and reconnoitre the movements of the youngers at the corners of the streets up as far as the old South Boston Bridge. Wo to the lady whose foot is half an inch too long, or dress of unfashionable make, and yet incautiously passes one of these knots of hopeful young critics.

An indignant and indigent old man offered three pleas in bar of a fine for smoking a pipe in the street.—1st, he always put a silver perforated cover on to keep the tobacco cinders from dropping out, to prevent fires.—2d, he had been in the habit of smoking at all times, in all places, and in all seasons, whenever it seemed good unto him, for the last fifty-seven years.—3d, he couldn't live, and wouldn't pretend to live, without smoking whenever he had a mind to. Pleas ruled insufficient, and fined $2.00, and costs.

Maiden Name.—A tall, swarthy middle-aged man, with a bushy black beard, full a week's growth, edged his way up to the bar, and tapping Counsellor—on the shoulder, said to him—"Plaze yer honor, I'd be getting a writ 'ginst Larry Donahoe for a thrifle he'd be owing me." "What may your name be?" replied the willing counsellor—"Flannagan, yer honor," answered the eager client. "What is your other name?" continued the counsellor—"Och, me maiden name is it you want; sure thin me maiden name is Patrick, at yer honor's service."

Lucy Ann Wilbur's black skin was lily white in comparison with her character. The first true words she has spoken these six months, was when she said "Yes, sir," to the charge.—Four months.

William Yeaton sold all his clothes, and his watch, to raise the steam. Upon complaint of his mother, he was sent over for six months.

No complaint has yet been entered against the man, in Elliot street, who poured a kettle full of hot water down his wife's back, on Wednesday.

Military.—The ceremony of presenting a sword, on behalf of the Tompkins Blues, by Col. Smith, of the regiment of Light Infantry, to Capt. N. P. Snelling, of the Mechanic Riflemen, took place yesterday, at Concert Hall. On the scaffold is the following inscription:—

"Presented on the 12th of September, 1836, by Saml. W. Seeley, James H. Fisher, and Benj. True of the Tompkins Blues, of the City of New York, to Capt. Nathaniel P. Snelling, of the Mechanic Riflemen, of Boston."

The sword is elegantly chased, and in every respect a most splendid article. It could not have cost less than $200. It was manufactured by N. P. Ames, of Springfield. The Address of Col. Smith, and the reply of Capt. Snelling, on the occasion, we shall probably be able to publish to-morrow.

In the afternoon, the commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the regiment of Light Infantry, paraded on the Common, for drill, under the command of Col. Smith. Their exercises indicated great proficiency in manoeuvring. Nine companies were represented on the occasion.

Errata.—In our last paper, on the first page, article headed "Specimens," &c., for provisions read poisonous, as follows:—Aliment. That which becomes poisonous to those who study too minutely its virtues and properties.

Democratic Tolerance.—"In travelling over the western section of Massachusetts (says a gentleman of unquestionable veracity) my business necessarily led me to inquire respecting the politics of 47 postmasters at whose offices I had business, and I was surprised to learn that only three of the forty-seven were Democrats."

A man in New Orleans, a few days since had his watch snatched out of his pocket by a black woman, and his money stolen by some fellows upon whom he called for assistance. He recovered his property, money and all, with the aid of the Police after much trouble.

Mr Seabrook, Senior, of S. C., father of the gentleman lately in this city, and one of the most opulent planters in that state, died at his country seat on Thursday week.

Mr T. Williamson, the old favorite of the Tremont, arrived in this city, by the Providence cars, yesterday afternoon.

The New Bedford people talk of introducing peat, as an article of fuel, instead of coal.

Stick to it Bennett; Power is a Welchman and we can prove it.

The real estate of the city of New York is assessed at three hundred millions of dollars.

The Post Master General has returned to Washington with improved health.

What has become of the Adventures of O'Connell, the Tattooed Man, which have been in press so long?

Death of Aaron Burr.—Col. Burr died on Tuesday, at Staten Island, aged 81.

The Van Buren majority in Maryland is three thousand and two hundred votes.

Steamboat Accident.—The steamboat Rockland, in rounding N. W. Point, off Haverstraw, on her trip from this city on Monday, with about 80 passengers, bound to the Camp Meeting, ran upon a reef of rocks, which stove in her bottom, and caused her to sink before she could be got ashore. No body was injured.

A "young man twenty-seven years of age" wishes us to procure him a wife. We must decline; it was as much as we could do to procure one for ourself.—Barnstable Post.

The Devil with a Bible.—At Winchester, Penn., a counterfeit has been secured by the name of George Kibber. The rascal concealed his counterfeit money in the sleeves of a bible.

At Savannah, Geo., the citizens have held a spirited meeting in favor of the Texans, and some interesting resolutions were passed with great enthusiasm.
